KASSON'S VIEWSRegarding the Recent Disaster in the Apia Harbor.*IT MAY PROVE A BLESSING TO GERMAN AND THE UNITED STATES.

As There Will, in All Probability, Be a More Strenuous Effort to Settle the Trouble, and in the Future Not Necessitate the Presence of an Armed Force in the Dangerous Locality.

NEW YORK, April 10.—Ex-Minister John A. Kasson, one of the commissioners appointed by President Harrison to confer with representatives of the British and German governments in regard to the Samoan situation, arrived in this city Monday from Washington.

He said that he and the two American commissioners, George H. Bates, of Delaware, and William Walter Phelps, of New Jersey, accompanied by Harold M. Sewall, as secretary for the commission, would sail for Liverpool on the Umbria Saturday. They would thence proceed to Berlin.

"I do not wish to express any opinion in regard to the stand taken by the United States at present," said Mr. Kasson. "We all wish to enter the conference as free as possible from any utterances upon the subject which we will have to consider."

"The condition of affairs in Samoa at present, I understand, is peaceful. The main question which we will be confronted with in the conference will be the decision upon some mode of protecting the rights of foreigners at Samoa, without, in any way, interfering with native independence. It will be our general aim to secure good order at Samoa and to maintain the principle of the equal rights of the powers interested there."

Commissioner Kasson said, when asked if he thought the destruction of the vessels at Samoa would have any effect upon the negotiations about to take place, that he thought it would. There would, in all probability, be a more strenuous effort made to reach such a settlement as would make needless the maintenance of an armed force at the islands.

MEXICAN NOTES.Counterfeiter Captured—A Priest's House Mobbed—Other News.

CITY OF MEXICO, April 10.—The other day at San Francisco del Rincon there arrived a Spaniard named Jose Lejarez, of Vizcaya, Spain, who said he was a merchant, and put up at a hotel. He was a man about 45 years of age and of good presence. Suspicion was, however, attracted, and the chief of police gobbled up Jose, when it was discovered that he was a counterfeiter, making small quantities of bad money in his room at night. When captured his whole counterfeiting plant was found, but he had on his person only $3.50 in counterfeit dollars and quarters, and about $20 of good money.

Recently at Huixquilucan some 200 armed men assaulted the house of a priest and fired into it, luckily without injuring the reverend occupant. On learning of the affair the archbishop of Mexico ordered the priest to go to the capital and the church closed.

Recently in the capital, Manuel Garcia, becoming convinced that his sister Leandra was a woman of loose morals, he stabbed her to death, and is in jail therefor.

Heavy dikes have been built to prevent a recurrence of the terrible floods which last year swept over and nearly destroyed Leon. The $30,000 prize in the National lottery of the 19th was won by various persons in Puebla.

Statues of Hidalgo and Zaragoza are to be placed in the public park at Monterey. The crops about Lagos are reported to be very poor.

Settlers Still at It.

CHICAGO, April 10.—A dispatch from Fort Dodge, Iowa, says: President Boynton, of the Settlers' union, renounces all responsibility of that organization for present acts of violence. This conservative policy does not find favor with the radical element of the organization. A secret meeting of radicals was held on Samuel Hoffman's farm Sunday, to determine the future line of action. It is understood that the present aggressive policy will be continued, and settlers will maintain possession of their homes at all hazards.

Tennessee Legislators Mad.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 10.—Governor Taylor Monday created considerable indignation by vetoing a bill for the removal and rebuilding of the state penitentiary. He reserved his veto until both houses were ready to adjourn, when, for lack of quorum, no action could be taken on the veto by either house. The indignant legislators thereupon voted a recess to May 7 instead of an adjournment, and declare that when they reassemble they will pass the bill over his veto.

MONTREAL, April 10.—The Ministerial association having resolved to petition the government to close the canals all day Sunday, the Corn Exchange association resolved that any extension of time during which the canals are closed on Sunday would seriously interfere with the interests of inland navigation and with the ocean shipping trade of this port.

TERRIBLE TREATMENTOf an Entire Family Near East Liverpool, Ohio, by Masked Burglars.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., April 10.—At 2 o'clock Monday morning the residence of Robert McBane, an aged farmer living a few miles from here, was visited by two masked men, who forced an entrance through the cellar window and found their way upstairs, where the family was sleeping. They attempted to chloroform the inmate, but were not successful.

When they discovered the family was aroused by their appearance they knocked three small children almost senseless and locked them in a small room, and asked Mr. McBane to give up all his money, saying they knew he received several thousand dollars on Saturday for some oil territory he disposed of. On being told he had not closed the bargain and did not receive any money, they struck him with a fire shovel, cutting an ugly gash in his head and knocking him senseless.

His wife pleaded for mercy. They removed her to a small closet, locking her in it, and searched the house from garret to cellar, finding nothing but a few small pieces of silver and some clothing. They escaped, and the officers have no clue as yet. McBane had disposed of some oil fields on Saturday and deposited the money in bank at Pittsburgh. When the neighbors called at the house in the morning they found the mother and children almost suffocated and the old man almost dead from loss of blood.

President Harrison Says the R. M. S. will Be Under Civil Service Rules After May 1—An Anxious Applicant to Handle the Mails Sends His Photo to the Postmaster General.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—President Harrison told a senator that he could not consistently extend beyond May 1 the date for placing the railway mail service under the civil service law, according to President Cleveland's orders.

The latter fixed the date at March 15. It was extended in order to get old Republicans back into the service. In order to have a few Democrats as possible on guard May 1 removals and appointments are being made at the rate of seventy-five per day.

Filed His Phil.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—At the postoffice department a curious thing has been found in the line of application. It is a photograph of an applicant for a postoffice, and is accompanied by the request that the picture be filed with the papers in the case.

What is intended to be a genial smile has evidently been too much for the skill of the country photographer, and the result is an expression of mingled astonishment and dismay, which is no doubt much more amusing than the original smile.

This is the third application accompanied by a photograph at the postoffice department, and if the action of the postmaster general is favorable to these cases there is a probability of the custom becoming general, at least in cases where the features of the applicants cannot be brought within the focus of the postmaster general's eye.

Scarlet Fever Quarantine.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., April 10.—The town of Fairbury, Ill., was quarantined Monday on account of the prevalence of scarlet fever. There are more than twenty cases of the disease in the little town, and six deaths have occurred in the past few days. No religious services were held Sunday. The Sunday schools were adjourned and the public schools have been closed. The families in which the disease prevails are not permitted to leave the premises, and provisions are furnished them by a committee appointed by the town board. Scarlet fever has visited a number of small towns in this vicinity this spring, and the way it is spreading in Fairbury has given the people great alarm.

Murderer Benson Confesses.

LOUISVILLE, April 10.—William Benson, the convicted murderer, made a full confession Monday morning. He says that he killed Capt. Jacob Mottweiler and assaulted Mrs. Mottweiler with intent to murder her. His object in killing Capt. Mottweiler was to get him out of the way that he might marry Sallie Snyder, a domestic in the Mottweiler family. The murderer is after a petition to the governor of Indiana, asking for a life sentence instead of death, but the chances are that the death penalty will not be interfered with.

The Mary Washington Monument.

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., April 10.—The receipt of a letter here from James B. Guild, of Reads Street, New York, proposing to raise during the coming centennial an amount sufficient to purchase and complete the Mary Washington monument, has given a new impetus to the matter. Mr. Huntington, a Baltimore speculator, has offered $20,000 for the lot and monument. Similar offers have been received from all parts of the Union.

Mrs. Althouse in Another Trance.

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 10.—Mrs. Emma Althouse, the Attica sleeper, is in another long trance. She went to sleep on March 27, and has not awakened since. She has taken no nourishment since the 27th, and is very weak. Her teeth are tightly closed, making it impossible to force the least particle of liquids or solids between them. Before falling into the present trance she predicted a long sleep, but did not state how long.

An Indiana Tangle.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., April 10.—The newly elected council and mayor have recognized the recent legislative act which gave Indianapolis and this city a metropolitan fire and police board. The old boards are ordered to vacate, but as the law has been decided unconstitutional by the supreme court and rendered invalid at the capital, it is doubtful what the outcome will be.

PEOPLE will never build up their town by grumbling and finding fault with it. The Baltimore Manufacturers' Record gives some good advice on this subject, and commends the following points from the Times Register, which suggests them to its readers as to how to develop Salem, Va.:

Now, then, let us all pull together and build up Salem.
 Talk about it.
 Write about it.
 Help to improve it.
 Beautify the streets.
 Patronize its merchants.
 Advertise in its paper.
 Pay your taxes without grumbling.
 Be courteous to strangers that come among you.

Never let an opportunity to speak a good word about it to pass.
 Remember that every dollar you invest in permanent improvements is that much money at interest.

Don't "kick" against any proposed necessary improvement because it is not near your own door, or for fear your taxes will be raised fifteen cents.

To this the Record adds, support your local paper first and liberally, and then spend money in advertising in the best mediums to draw men and money from elsewhere.

These examinations, which are very complete, entering into every detail of the transactions of the Treasury, are made at the beginning of each month, thus furnishing the Governor and the people, through Inspector Miller's reports, an exact knowledge of the condition of the finances of the State.—Frankfort Capital.

License to Retail Liquor.

The Court of Appeals in deciding a recent case from Shelby County says:

First—The present revenue law, (Chap. 92, General Statutes), has not repealed the special statutes giving to the different incorporated cities and towns in the State exclusive power to grant license to sell liquor by retail within their respective limits; and under section 10 of Article 5 of the law, which provides that a license granted by a city or town having authority to grant the same shall be void "unless the State license be obtained and the State tax be paid before the grant thereof," is not necessary for the applicant to do more than pay to the County Clerk the State tax required in such cases, the Clerk's receipt of such payment being all the State license required by that section of the Statute.

Appellant, with a view of applying to the Board of Trustees for license to retail liquor in Shelbyville, tendered to the County Clerk the amount of State tax required to be prepaid, and upon his refusal to receive the money and give a receipt therefor this action was instituted for a writ of mandamus to compel him to do so. Held—That the provisions of the charter of Shelbyville giving to the Board of Trustees the exclusive right to license all taverns, houses of public resort, etc., was not repealed by the present revenue law, and that appellant is entitled to the mandamus.

Second—The power to grant a license to sell liquors by retail in any given locality involves a discretion to refuse.

KENTUCKY RAILROADS

Their Earnings Greater Last Year Than the Average of Other States.

Nearly Three Hundred Miles of Track Now Under Construction and More to Follow.

The report of the Kentucky Railroad Commissioners for the past year has just been issued, and the showing they make of the earning capacity of the railroads, and of the increase in mileage is very gratifying indeed.

The Commissioners report as follows on some aspects of the work:

"The railroads constructed in the United States (and Territories) during the current year are estimated in Poor's Manual to approximate 5,500 miles, or an average of about 125 miles to each State and Territory of the Union. Indeed, it appears that our State has, of late years, been making a steady advance in the construction of lines of transportation. It is believed that this progressive advance will be maintained during the ensuing year. There are now under construction in the State over two hundred miles of railroad. Besides these, there are between four and five hundred miles more of projected roads. Several long lines of these projected enterprises are being pushed with great energy. Considerable local aid has been secured, and much more promised to assist in their construction.

"The spirit of progress, now fully awakened, is pressing forward in the development of the mineral and timber resources of the State, and, as a necessary agency in this great work, railroads are being projected and built into the mining and lumber regions. Nor are the agricultural districts indifferent to the great benefit of securing additional transportation facilities for their products. Everywhere the spirit of improvement prompts the people to extend liberal aid to these enterprises.

"The reduced cost of building and equipping railroads now, as compared with thirty years ago, conduces greatly to the encouragement of their construction.

"The tables, showing the cost of railroads and equipments in the State, and the cost of roads per mile, not only exhibit the vast amount of money invested in these properties, viz: $97,370,711, but demonstrate that of late years the cost per mile of building and equipping railroads in Kentucky has greatly decreased.

"Another great inducement to capitalists to invest in Kentucky railroad construction is the enormous earnings of the existing roads, both in the country at large and within the State. The gross earnings of all the roads in the Union for the year 1887 (the last year reported) amount to the vast sum of $940,150,702, an increase of $110,209,866 over the preceding year. The gross earnings of the Kentucky roads reporting to the Commission, for the year ending June 30, 1888, were $14,583,075, an increase over the year before of $2,144,709 or 17.24 per cent. The net earnings for the same period were $5,836,244, an increase of $988,080, 19.96 per cent. over the year ending June 30, 1887. The average gross earnings per mile of the roads reported, for the 1888, are $7,008, and the average net earnings per mile $2,852. The percentage of operating expenses to the gross earnings is 62.62, leaving the net earnings 37.38 per cent. of the gross earnings."

The roads reported by the Commission as under construction are as follows: The Kentucky Midland, from Frankfort to Paris, a distance of forty miles, is being pushed with great energy.

The Pineville and Cumberland Gap extension of the Louisville and Nashville, a distance of fourteen miles (exclusive of work to be performed in the tunnel at the Gap, which is 3,700 feet long). This road will be completed by the first of August.

The Lexington extension of the Louisville Southern, which must be completed, under contracts, by June, and will be one of the best built and equipped roads in the State.

The Kentucky Union, from Lexington to Jackson, Breathitt County, seventy-six miles, which will be ready for trains by August 1. The remaining half of the road, from Jackson to the Virginia line, will possibly be completed by February 1, 1890.

An extension of the Ohio Valley Railroad, from Henderson to Evansville, Ind., a distance of twelve miles, is now about completed.

Roads under contract and projected are as follows:

An extension of the Louisville Southern, by way of Mt. Sterling and the Licking Valley, through the Eastern coal field to the Virginia line, will probably be commenced in a few weeks. The money for this road is said to be already provided. This road will not only open large areas of fine canal and other coals, but will be of great importance to travel and timber developments in the Eastern part of the State.

The Owensboro and Falls of Rough Railroad is under contract and construction for a distance of thirty miles.

The Richmond, Nicholasville, Irvine and Beattyville Railroad is under contract, and work is being carried on as fast as possible.

The extension of the Ohio Valley from Princeton to Hopkinsville, which is under contract, will probably be delayed by some technical obstacle in the law under which the vote for subscription was taken.

Other lines projected are from Paducah to Hickman, in the western part of the State; from Paducah to Paris, Tenn.; from Cairo to Cumberland Gap, across nearly the entire length of the State; an extension of the Kentucky Midland from Paris to the Virginia line; the Eastern Kentucky road, from Willard to the Virginia line; the Henderson State Line road, from Henderson through Bowling Green to the Tennessee line; and the Louisville, Hardingsburg and Western railway, upon which work has already begun.

How a Chinese Lily Helped to Win a Prize.

S. E. Davis, of Firebaugh, Fresno, Cal., owes his luck in the last drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery to a Chinaman in his employ, who prior to the drawing gave him a Chinese lily bulb, a present among the Chinese, as they believe it brings good luck. It was placed in water. Seeing it rapidly flourishing he became very excited, considering it as an omen of great good fortune to his master, whom he implored to send for some lottery tickets. When the winning numbers were telegraphed Mr. Davis received news that he was the winner of $15,000. San Francisco (Cal.) Chronicle, February 11th.

HE HAS HOPES.

Boulanger Believes That He Will Yet Triumph.

HE HAS NOT BEEN ORDERED TO LEAVE BELGIAN SOIL.

The Rumor Revived That Serbia is Under Russian Rule—Alexander to Visit the Czar—A Fire in India Renders 15,000 People Homeless—Cholera Adds to the Distress—Other Foreign News.

NEW YORK, April 10.—The Herald's correspondent in Brussels sends the following to his paper:

I have just had an interview with Gen. Boulanger, who received me in a most charming manner. To my question, "Do you expect to return to Paris soon?" he answered, "I would be very foolish to go back there of my own will for the purpose of appearing before the senate. I would return willingly in order to appear before my natural judges, but I will not submit to be tried by my political adversaries. I will return after the October election, in which I shall carry seventy departments."

The general had fewer callers Monday than Sunday, and numbers far less than when he was in Paris, where he had so many visitors that he was forced to give them appointments several days in advance. Here he has no visitors and no invitation to dinner to interfere with his valuable time. This will give him an opportunity for rest and to recover his health.

The independence of Belgium persists in its statement concerning the interview between Gen. Boulanger and Prince Victor, notwithstanding contradictions which have been made on the subject. As far as the alleged repulsion of the general from Belgium is concerned, I am in a position to be able to state that no demand on the subject has been made by the French government.

Not Requested to Leave Belgium.
PARIS, April 10.—Gen. Boulanger has telegraphed from Brussels that the report that the Belgian authorities had requested him to leave Belgium is untrue.

Serbia Under Russia's Rule.
LONDON, April 10.—A dispatch announcing that young King Alexander of Serbia is going to Russia in August for the purpose of meeting the czar at Charkoff, has revived statements that Serbia has drifted away from Austria and is completely under control of Russia. Whether this be true or not there can be no doubt that the czar will take occasion at the coming meeting to impress upon the mind of the boy king and the Serbian officials who will accompany him the advisability of cultivating Russia's friendship and deferring to the wishes expressed by her representatives.

In casting about in search of an incentive to the young king's visit to Russia, one need go no further than the youthful monarch's mother. Queen Natalie having been advised that her presence in Belgrade at this time would place her son in an embarrassing position has doubtless influenced the step proposed to be taken by the latter in order to commit him to the pro-Russian meaning she so ardently desires him to exhibit.

The Serbian regency, headed by M. Ristic, could scarcely be expected to oppose Alexander's deference to his mother's wishes in this respect since the domination of Serbia by Russia is a thing they have individually worked for upon every opportunity that has presented itself during the last few years. It may therefore be regarded as settled that the march of Russia toward the conquest of the Balkan states will not be long delayed.

Stanley's Other Letter.
LONDON, April 10.—Henry M. Stanley's letter to the Royal Geographical society was read at the meeting of that body Monday evening. The letter consists mainly of a repetition of what has already been published. He describes at length the various devices by which the natives endeavored to prevent the advance of the expedition. One of these was to dig shallow pits across the path of the column and fill them with skewers, which were deftly covered with leaves. The skewers pierced the feet of Stanley's men, inflicting wounds that in many cases developed into gangrenous sores. The men who were lamed in this manner were seldom of further service.

Mr. Stanley calls the natives "cunning rogues," and says that for the purpose of extortion they always pretended that the country was suffering from a famine. The "friendlylies," he says, withheld information, but the natives who were captured by the expedition imparted all they knew. Mr. Stanley believes that the lake he discovered in 1876 belongs to the Congo.

The Stanley Story a Canard.
BRUSSELS, April 10.—A dispatch from Zanzibar to the Independence Belge, says the rumor that Stanley and Emin Pasha were marching in the direction of Zanzibar was an Arab invention.

Jack the Ripper Again, With a Variation.
HAMBURG, April 10.—The body of a boy named Steinfort was found at an early hour Monday morning on a road near this city. The boy's throat had been cut and his abdomen ripped open and his entrails removed. The boy was otherwise shockingly mutilated. It had evidently lain on the road throughout the night.

The country in the vicinity of this city is being scoured in search of the murderer who was surprised by several persons, but succeeded in making his escape. He will probably be identified as some of those who saw aim profess to recollect his features distinctly.

Oarsman Seeks to Go to England.
SYDNEY, N. S. W., April 10.—Searle, the champion oarsman of Australia, will sail for England on May 4. When he arrives in England he will issue challenges to the oarsmen, Teemer and O'Connor, offering to row them for £500 each and the championship of the world, the contest to take place on the Thames.

Local Government Bill for Scotland.
LONDON, April 10.—In the house of commons Monday night the lord advocate introduced a bill for local government in Scotland. The bill creates county councils, the members of which are elected by householders. All boroughs with a population of less than 7,000 will be merged into counties; the others will be self-governed. The powers of the councils extends to private bill legislation. The right of legislating on private bills was hitherto vested in parliament. The measure is, therefore, a step in the direction of Home Rule. The function of the councils are otherwise similar to those of the English councils.

COAXING THE CHEROKEES.

That Commission Expected to Start Some Time This Month.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The commission recently appointed by the president to negotiate the purchase of 6,000,000 acres of land in the Indian territory, have been notified by telegraph to assemble in Washington not later than the 15th inst. As soon thereafter as their instructions can be given them, probably within four or five days, they will leave for Muscogee, the capital of the Cherokee nation. The expectation is that the commission will finish its work within sixty or ninety days, at the farthest. It is empowered to offer the Cherokees $1.25 an acre for the land.

The only opposition to the purchase will come, it is believed, from the cattle syndicates which are grazing their herds on the land which it is proposed to buy. Their opposition, however, will be largely centralized by the fact that the purchase money will be placed at interest, which will pay the Indians $350,000 a year instead of $250,000 a year, which is the entire amount received by them from the cattle men. Should the Indians refuse to sell, an effort will be made in the next congress to take the land without paying them a cent.

It is believed, however, that the commission will reach a satisfactory conclusion with the Indians and that the 6,000,000 acres thus acquired will be thrown open to settlement during the coming summer. These, together with the 2,000,000 recently purchased, constitute the principal portion of what will be in future known as Oklahoma territory. Before the close of the present month it is estimated that 50,000 persons will have sought homes in Oklahoma, which is now a howling wilderness. With the 6,000,000 acres added it is believed that the population will be tripled before the end of the present year.

LABOR NEWS.

Dangers of a Carpenters Strike in Chicago.

Monongahela Miners Resume.

CHICAGO, April 10.—The carpenters on the one hand and the building contractors on the other are in a ferment of excitement. The former are organizing with a determination of obtaining better terms or bringing on a general strike.

They are holding meetings in various parts of the city nightly, and otherwise by committees, recruiting their unions from the ranks of non-union men. They claim that out of the 9,000 carpenters and joiners in the city fully 3,500 are organized and are loyal to the carpenters' council. Further than this the leaders say that the carpenters will be, in their unions, fully 5,000 strong before the end of the present month.
